

PLANNING IN A HETERO- GENEOUS WORLD: RE-ASSEMBLING INFORMALITY

The conference is free and open to the public.

12 GIUGNO 2013 - FORNO VECCHIO 36 - AULA ANDRIELLO V PIANO - ORE 9

NAPOLI - DIARC

This one-day conference will bring together scholars from Italy and the United States to explore the urban implications of a world populated by networks of humans, nature, and technologies. The focus will be on how these assemblages of heterogeneous actors create the conditions that confront planners as they address such issues as urban regeneration, climate change, microfinance, informal economies, and regional development. Speakers will include Alessandro Balducci, Robert Beauregard, Serena Vicari Haddock, Laura Lieto, Francesco D. Moccia, and Stefano Moroni.
